Nau mai haere mai ki Te Pūkenga

Welcome to Te Pūkenga

Te Pūkenga is building a national network of integrated learning in Aotearoa New Zealand that better meets the needs of learners, their whānau, employers and the community.

By bringing together on-the-job, on campus and online learning, Te Pūkenga is creating a network that gives learners more choices and flexibility in what, where and how they learn.

Te Pūkenga

Please note our programmes of study are currently under review as part of the Reform of Vocational Education training. The objective is to provide one programme for Te Pūkenga that is portable, consistent, and more closely aligned with the needs of industry. As the review is ongoing, this prospectus is correct at the time of publishing but the courses outlined may change over time.

Kia ora huihui mai tātou

It's my pleasure to be able to provide an introduction in this 2024 prospectus and welcome you to Te Pūkenga, nei te reo rāhiri e rere atu ana – nau piki mai, nau kake mai ki Te Pūkenga.

In 2020, the government reviewed the vocational education system in Aotearoa New Zealand and made some significant changes for how it would work in the future.

One of those changes was the creation of Te Pūkenga, New Zealand Institute of Skills and Technology. The change meant that all of the country's Kura Tini, Institutes of Technology and Polytechnics such as Ara as well as some of the country's Industry Training Organisations which focus on work-based learning such as apprenticeships, will now sit within one organisation – Te Pūkenga.

By bringing these organisations together, it means we can create a national network of on-the-job, on campus and online learning opportunities that give learners more choice and flexibility in what, where and how they learn throughout Aotearoa New Zealand.

For those of you thinking of enrolling with Ara for study in 2024, this means you are going to be enrolling with a national organisation and you will receive a qualification from Aotearoa New Zealand's largest education provider, Te Pūkenga.

You'll still be able to study in Canterbury but you'll have the additional benefits that come from being part of a national network – such as more support, more study options and increased ability to switch between different types of learning if your circumstances change.

A national network means we can plan better for the future needs of Aotearoa. We want to make sure that when you enrol in a programme, you are gaining skills that are needed by Aotearoa and around the world – giving you more job security and ultimately increasing your opportunities for success.

Our transformation is a journey that will take time but one thing is clear, everything we do is centred around our learners and their whānau. We have a relentless focus of equity and we're setting the foundations to deliver to Te Tiriti o Waitangi and its principles, and most importantly to the aspirations of Māori learners, their whānau, and iwi/hapū.

Throughout this prospectus you may notice that a number of programmes are changing.

We are unifying programmes to make sure they are consistent across the country. This means if your circumstances change, you'll be able to continue with your study rather than having to start again. It's just one of the ways we are working to make learning fit around life, rather than making life fit around learning.

Whether you're looking to continue with your study or try something fresh, we look forward to you joining Te Pūkenga whānau and being part of this transformational journey with us.

Mā te kimi ka kite. Mā te kite ka mōhio. Mā te mōhio ka mārāma – Seek and discover. Discover and know. Know and the world of light is yours to behold.

If you have any questions or want to find out more about Te Pūkenga, visit our website tepukenga.ac.nz or email us at info@tepukenga.ac.nz – we'd love to hear from you.

Ngā mihi nui

Peter Winder
Tumuaki | Chief Executive

Kia ora! Welcome

Whether you're fresh out of school, seeking a new direction, or just keen to get ahead in the workplace, choosing where to study is a big decision. You want to be sure that your choice suits your learning style and equips you with the skills you need to achieve your goals. You also want to be confident that you'll get the support you require throughout your study journey, and that you'll enjoy the experience of being a student.

At Ara | Te Pūkenga, we're committed to ensuring that you have a positive learning experience and graduate work-ready with the skills, knowledge and experience you need to enjoy a successful career, anywhere. In short, your success and wellbeing is our priority.

With campuses across Canterbury, plus more than 150 full-time, part-time, online, blended and distance learning options, we provide as much flexibility as possible to help you fit study around work, family and other commitments.

When you study with us, you'll enjoy a strong sense of belonging within an inclusive, multicultural environment made up of around 14,000 domestic students and 600 international students.

You'll never just be a number or a face in a crowd though. Your tutors and other Ara | Te Pūkenga staff will get to know you, and because our class sizes are generally small, you'll get to know your classmates too. You'll collaborate with them on projects, and through a wide range of events and social activities on campus, plus many student clubs and groups you can join, you'll also meet students studying other subjects.

During your studies, we'll equip you with the skills employers want and we'll give you work placement opportunities that prepare you for the realities of the job.

We'll also support you throughout your time at Ara | Te Pūkenga, whether you have academic or personal challenges affecting your study, or you need assistance with accommodation, transport, childcare, healthcare, disability support or career guidance.

Ara | Te Pūkenga qualifications are internationally-recognised and respected. Once you have yours, the world is your oyster. We know, because our graduates can be found working and making a difference across the globe, as well as throughout Aotearoa New Zealand.

Whatever path you wish to pursue, we'll do whatever we can to help you achieve your goal. We look forward to welcoming you into our friendly and vibrant community soon.

Helpful Tip

Our website is where you'll find the most up-to-date and comprehensive information on all study options at Ara | Te Pūkenga, including full details of each programme plus any new courses that have been added since this brochure was produced. If you're in Year 11, 12 or 13 at school, our extensive range of Experience Ara events provides a great way to get a feel for tertiary study. With Experience Ara, you can explore subjects you're interested in with fun, hands-on activities; gain credits towards NCEA with a STAR course; tour our campuses; attend an open day or learn how to submit an application for your study option of choice.

Dual Enrolment courses are another way to experience tertiary study while you're still at school. You spend a day or two a week at Ara | Te Pūkenga, and the rest of the week at school. It's a great opportunity to earn NCEA credits and get a head start in a subject you want to study when you leave school.

Contemplating full-time study at Ara | Te Pūkenga? Our Careers & Employment team can help you explore your study and career options and give you career planning advice, all at no cost.

If you're 16 – 19 years old and not at school or working, a free Youth Guarantee course is the smart way to get ahead. You'll gain foundation skills for employment or further study and you'll be able to make confident decisions about your future. You'll also receive extra pastoral care, transport support and guidance as you transition into work or further tertiary study. Even better, in most cases Youth Guarantee courses don't affect your eligibility for fees-free study at a higher level later on.

The government's fees-free study initiative means that your first year of study is free, so long as you meet the eligibility criteria. If you're not eligible for fees-free study, or if you're studying for longer than a year, be sure to check out our wide range of scholarships – you could save thousands of dollars in fees.

Got itchy feet? How about combining study and travel with a student exchange. We have partnerships with educational institutes around the world, potentially allowing you to complete some of your study while experiencing life in another country.

Ready to re-enter the workforce after raising the kids? Out of work and needing skills for a new career? Just not sure what you want to do next? At Ara | Te Pūkenga we can help you find that fresh start or new direction, and support you to achieve your goals.

If you're contemplating studying with us, our Careers & Employment team can help you explore your study and career options and give you career planning advice, for free.

For women, our Next Step Centre for Women offers a range of confidence-boosting courses on topics like self-esteem, assertive communication and self-development. Enhance your sense of self-worth, develop your potential and expand your possibilities in a friendly, supportive environment.

We've also got Foundation Studies courses designed as stepping stones to further study or a new career. A foundation course could be perfect if you want to gain the entry criteria for a particular course, if you've not been in formal education for a while, or if you're looking for a new direction.

If you're Māori or Pacific, you can take advantage of free trades courses offered at Ara | Te Pūkenga through He Toki and Pacific Trades Training. As well as gaining sought-after trades skills that can earn you good money, you'll also explore your cultural identity and be supported to join the next generation of Māori and Pacific trades leaders.

So long as you meet the government's eligibility criteria, you can study fees-free at Ara | Te Pūkenga for up to a year. If you're studying for longer than a year, or if you don't qualify for fees-free study, be sure to check out our wide range of scholarships – getting one could save you thousands of dollars in fees.

Te Ōhaka

If you're slogging it out in a job you don't really like, being overlooked for promotion, or feeling like you've been left behind by technology, now's the time to gain new skills that can open the door to exciting new opportunities.

As well as the more than 150 qualifications listed in this study guide, we offer a range of professional development courses that you can study while you work. If you're working, your employer might support you to do one of these courses, and may even pay your fees. Our professional development courses range from conflict management, customer service and beginner Te Reo, through to health and safety and effective communication.

We've also got lots of part-time, short courses that are great if you want to improve your work skills, pursue a passion or discover a new interest. You can learn about food safety or how to make your own furniture, get an introduction to welding, become an expert barista and lots more.

Are you one of the legions of hard workers out there with extensive workplace experience but no qualification to show for it? At our Centre for Assessment of Prior Learning, you can get credit recognition for your experience which you can then put towards a formal qualification like a certificate, diploma or degree. This confidence-boosting process can improve both your career opportunities and your earning potential.

If it's the basics that are holding you back, we have free adult literacy and numeracy courses to improve your reading, writing and maths for work and everyday life. We can also help you become confident in the digital world with free courses in common computer programmes like Word, Excel, PowerPoint, email and the internet. These courses are available through our Ara Connect network of community hubs (in Christchurch and Timaru) and you can study at your own pace.

Got a great idea for a new business or product, but not sure how to get it off the ground? Te Ōhaka is a partnership between Ara | Te Pūkenga and the Ministry of Awesome. Established to foster growth and innovation, Te Ōhaka can provide you with free entrepreneurial support, mentorship and resources to help give your idea the best chance of success.

Campus tours

A guided campus tour is a great way to see Ara | Te Pūkenga in action and get a feel for what it's like to study with us. To request a tour, go to ara.ac.nz/book-a-tour.

From the mountains to the sea, water is carried by the many rivers of the Waitaha/Canterbury region. And like water, so does knowledge flow from tutor to learner. On the front cover, the blue tones flowing across the page represent the region's four major rivers that weave their way from the high country to the Pacific Ocean: the Waimakariri, the Rakaia, the Rangitata and the Waitaki. Canterbury has the largest number of braided rivers in New Zealand; to pay homage to this natural feature, abstract lines flow across the covers in braided form, connecting the front cover to the back.
