

Additional Requirements Portfolio Information

Programme code: NZ3665

Programme name: New Zealand Diploma in Interior Design (Residential)

You must complete this in addition to the Admission and Enrolment form. Your application will not be able to be processed until you have submitted both the application form AND the portfolio.

A portfolio of creative work is required along with an application for admission to the New Zealand Diploma in Interior Design (Residential) programme.

It is to your advantage to take the time to present yourself well. Submit your portfolio as an electronic file (pdf format) and complete EITHER of the following:

- Include examples of your own art/graphic design work or interiors you have designed yourself. The portfolio should include photographs or scanned images of this work arranged in a creative manner. You may like to add notes beside the images to explain the rationale. All information is to be wordprocessed and your portfolio should be 6-8 pages long.
- If you don't have examples of your own work then you should design two moodboards that present a design scheme for both a living room and a bedroom (one for each). Present a consistent design style, for example: coastal, mid-century, Scandinavian, art-deco, bohemian, or any other design style. Select furnishings and materials, for example: paint, wallpaper, lighting, furniture, flooring, window treatments, art and accessories that suit the style and arrange them creatively on the page. The selection of materials and products should demonstrate flair (don't just choose products from the same supplier). Add a legend on the mood board that specifies the products including the supplier and product name. Canva (free) or Photoshop are good programmes to help you design moodboards. The image of a moodboard will give you an idea of what is expected.
